

Save-A-Life Tour Coming to SWOSU This Tuesday

02.11.2009

The Save-A-Life Tour is coming to Southwestern Oklahoma State University this Tuesday, February 17, on the Weatherford campus.

Mu Phi Epsilon professional music sorority is sponsoring the tour that shows students the effects of drinking and driving and seat belt awareness. Megan Blevins of MPE said there will be driving simulators, games and information booths.

The event will be held from 12 noon until 6 p.m. in the Wellness Center on the SWOSU campus. Everyone is invited, and admission is free.

Blevins said there will be a drawing for an iPod, and t-shirts will also be on sale.
